Should Look After Culture of Their Children.

DEMAND BETTER TEACHERS

PROF. CLARK SAYS KEEP EYE ON SCHOOL FUNDS.

Professor S. H. Clark, with all his popular appeal as a reader, made his talk of the whole course yesterday afternoon at the Ladies' Literary club. And it was not one outlined in the course, either. Speaking of the individual responsibility, he said: "You are the people who hold the matter of education, and hence of politics and public morality, in your hands. It is for you to see to it that correct conditions exist in educational matters. The men who attend to the so-called practical things in life, business and large affairs, are prone to leave the civic and educational matters to you, and it is for you to assume individual responsibility for the schools."

"Put your taxes into your schools, where they will reach the largest rate of interest. Secure for your teachers a high standard of pay, and they will pay you in culture and accomplishment for your children. I do not want cheap teachers to take charge of my children. I want teachers who can travel in their rest time and recuperate from their labors. I want teachers who can go abroad and bring back to the schools a culture and refinement which the poorly paid teacher cannot get. I want teachers who can be in the best places to be found, not economize for six months at a time on pork and beans. You pay teachers a more pittance and the poorer of them give you more than your money's worth."

Elect Only Good People.
"It is for you women to take up this question. Not enough of your taxes go into the schools. How many of you know now that your city is taxed to its limit; how the taxes have been spent? How many know what kind of men you have on your board of education? You women, who are here, are sufficient to control educational matters in your city. See to it that the best woman you know is nominated for a position as a member of your school board, and if you fail to elect her, you can elect her. They called in the men, who were to lend their aid to a good thing already started."

Look After School Funds.
"Stand back of your teachers, seeing that you get the best possible, and men will join you in the matter. It is a disgrace to think of the possibility of the public schools being closed two months short of the year because of lack of funds. Find out what has been done with your funds."

"Chicago paid $150,000 to find out that he had been swindled out of $50,000. It was an expensive investment, but it paid. See how your money is spent in educational matters, and you will have funds for your schools. Last evening Horrell had another great audience greeted Professor Clark and listened to the last of the dramatic recitals. The subject chosen was "Henry V." the poet's hero king. "Good King Hal" is one example of a man triumphant in the realm practical as well as the realm spiritual. A noble man, a glorious character and a good monarch, is shown forth in this play, which is more truly an epic than a drama."

How to Instruct Children.
Henry is the play, and as the reader set forth the principal points in his reading the listeners felt that it was the character of Henry, and not the action in the play, which constitute the whole of the poet's theme.
Yesterday afternoon Professor Clark gave for the teachers a practical demonstration with sixth grade pupils, and at 11 o'clock he will speak on "Standards of Criticism." Both of the meetings will be for the general public as well as for teachers.

DIFFICULT FOR THE RAILWAYS UP NORTH

St. Paul, Minn., March 25.—The Northern Pacific, Great Northern and Soo lines had a hard time of it in North Dakota and Montana today. A fierce storm has been raging in these states for more than thirty hours. The railroad wires are down and all trains more or less blocked. A party of executive and traffic officials that left St. Paul is blockaded somewhere in North Dakota.
The north coast limited, which left St. Paul yesterday, is tied up at Dickinson.

GERMAN INTRIGUE.

Paris, March 25.—Concerning reports from Berlin to the effect that France and Russia are exchanging views relative to firm action against the Chinese troops in Manchuria, it can be asserted positively that no changes of the character are going on. The authorities consider that the Berlin reports are part of the German intrigue seeking to embroil France in complications.

HEREROS REPULSED.

Berlin, March 25.—A cablegram was received today from Colonel Lettwein, the governor of German Southwest Africa, announcing that a fight occurred at Omakato mountain March 16, which resulted in the Hereros being repulsed with a loss of the top men killed. FINE ORATORICAL CONTEST

Annual Event of Collegiate Institute Brings Out Exceptional Merit.

The seventh annual contest of the Salt Lake Collegiate Institute took place last evening at the First Presbyterian church.
The exercises opened with a song by the students, "The Call to Arms." This was followed by prayer by Dr. Paden. Miss Chas. Beattie opened the contest with a selection from Gilbert Parker, "The Going of the White Swan."

Miss Adams followed with "The Swan Song." Miss Harris gave this piece with true artistic skill, her enunciation being distinct and manner cool and dignified.
The "Theatre Party," from "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch," was given by Ruth Lenore Salisbury.

After a song by the school, the oratorical contest was opened by Theodore Day Martin, who read the address of "Verbeck of Japan." Mr. Martin is a forcible speaker, easy in manner and with good presence.

Mr. Martin was followed by Margaret Katharine Nelson, whose theme was "Marcus Hanna." Miss Nelson's oration was an unstinted and unequalled display of the late senator, and was well received by the audience.

"The Supremacy of America," by Claire Snyder, was a well rendered oration, in which she reviewed the history of nations which at various times ruled the world. She drew comparisons between Rome and the United States, and set forth her reasons for believing that the latter would eventually rule the world. She drew comparisons between Rome and the United States, and set forth her reasons for believing that the latter would eventually rule the world.

"Dreyfus, the Martyr," by Frank Miller. This was the theme of this young student, who was most emphatic in his defense of that unfortunate Jewish officer.

James R. Le Marr followed Mr. Miller with a well-rendered oration on "Peter the Great and the Statesman." He reviewed the tolling, untiring efforts of Peter the Great to secure the personal experience in all kinds of life in order to bring about the future ruler.

Amy Sarah Quinton was the last of the contestants, and gave in a distinct tone an oration on "The Ideal Citizen." She pointed out a check list for the citizen of today and advanced in contrast the citizen as he should be.

The essays were not read except by the judges, who awarded the prizes as follows: Declaration, first prize, Miss Salisbury; second prize, Miss Harris. Orations, first prize, Frank Miller; second prize, Claire Snyder. Elocution, first prize, Ethel McMichael, subject, "Queen Louise of Prussia"; second prize, Lillian Hornung, subject, "Helen Keller."

The proposed extension of Fish Lake reserve will be divided, the north half to be added to the reserve and the south half to be restored to public entry. The lands proposed for the Salina reserve will be divided, those on the north of the Ireland cattle ranch to be added to Manti reserve and the remainder to be added to the Fish Lake reserve. Washington, March 25.—Senator Hansbrough charged in the senate today that the movement to secure the repeal of the desert land law, the timber and stone law, and the commutation clause of the railroad law, was borne the brunt of the attacks, stood as a barrier to such action.

Senator Gibson yesterday advocated repealing the laws in question. Senators Hansbrough and Dubois contended that the repeal would be a disaster to the country. Senator Newlands favored modification of the law. The bill making appropriations for the support of the District of Columbia was considered for several hours but without completing it the senate took up the private pension calendar, passing a large number of bills.

During the day Former Vice President Morton appeared on the floor of the senate and was warmly greeted.

He stated that it would cost something like $800 to run the schools another month. It was also shown that it takes $1.25 per month to pay teachers and janitors.

MOTHER OF TEN CURED OF NERIE EXHAUSTION

The care and worry of a large family brought Mrs. Ella Bollen to death's door with general breakdown and consumption.

She says Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey cured her.

Buffalo, N. Y., Dec. 22, 1903.
"I am the mother of ten children, my youngest boy being now in his fourth year. I had been gradually failing in health for more than a year. My trouble started with indigestion and dyspepsia. I was very nervous, and I lost sleep rapidly. I was so weak that I was unable to take to my bed and was there four months. Finally nothing would stay on my stomach. I suffered from shortness of breath and heart trouble. Gradually I was able to get on my feet, but I was still very weak. My family doctor was in constant attendance, but his medicine failed to do me any good. I lost sleep rapidly, and was awfully weak—a complete nervous wreck. None of my family expected that I would be about again."

"One day my sister brought me a bottle of Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey. I began with a few drops at a time. It stayed on my stomach and I began to get better at once. I was able to sit up, and now, after taking it according to directions for months, I am completely cured. My life saved by your wonderful Malt Whiskey, which I recommend to every mother."
